Advice to the Lovelorn: Be careful when you propose. See that the lodge is properly tyled.

We heard of a man last week who was urging some queen to be the light of his life—and one roomer, the mother and two neighbors were listening in.

They say it was better than the movies. The voice adds so much, don't you think?

First he placed his arm about her waist, and after whispering two or three columns of sweet nothings into her ear, he urged her to be his'n. She demurred. Some more nothings followed. Still she failed to fall. This kept up for two hours, when court adjourned for the night.

Two of the neighbors think he has a good chance ultimately to win her.

He has our blessing.

TODAY'S BEST STORY

"Mamma!"
"Yes, my child."
"Will you tell me a fairy story?"
"But it's very late, my son."
"I know, but papa isn't home yet."
"Well, wait until he comes home, dear; he'll tell us both one."

MIND PARODY

'Twas the night before pay-day, and all through me jeans I hunted in vain for the price of some beans; Not a quarter was stirring, not even a bit; The kale was off duty, milled edges had quit. Forward, turn forward, O Time, in thy flight! Make it tomorrow just for tonight! —Morley.

After the smoke of Thursday night's battle had died away, one backer of the dusky flivver said: "You should have seen him in the gym shadow boxing. That's what defeated him."

Another fight fan called attention to the fact that the Texas Bearcat had four seconds.

And every one of those seconds brought along half a dozen lemons. The Texan evidently believed in preparedness.

Small wonder that motorists buy more Diamonds than any other tire not sold to car manufacturers for original equipment.
